

Friday, October 30 @ 4:00 in the Chicano Culture Room of the Texas Union

Immediately followed by BEER at Dog &
Duck Pub (406 W. 17th Street)

Hacking the Ivory Tower: The Intersections of New Media, Academic Scholarship, and Pedagogy

A roundtable discussion sponsored by FlowTV.org

Roundtable Participants:

Michael French, Co-Editor-in-
Chief of Pterodáctilo; Spanish/Portuguese Dept.

Randy Lewis, American Studies

Sean McCarthy, Rhetoric & Writing

Neil Nehring, English

Tanya Rabourn, School of Information

Sharon Strover, Radio-Television-Film

The audience is strongly encouraged to participate in this discussion

FlowTV.org is turning 5—come celebrate!

In the past 5 years Flow has published 800 columns from more than 300 scholars around the world. To celebrate we are hosting a FREE interdepartmental roundtable discussion with scholars from across UT, immediately followed by DRINKS at the Dog & Duck Pub.

This event is made possible by generous donations from the Department of Radio-Television-Film.